Ohio Match Plant Blast Injures 7

Match Factory Potash
Plant Explosion
Rocks Barberton and Is Felt Three Miles Away; Injured Are Badly Burned

AKRON, June 22.—Seven persons were injured, one probably fatally, and $200,000 damage was caused by two explosions which demolished the potash plant of the Diamond Match company, Barberton, today.

Jay Steele, city fireman, was blinded in both eyes and his body was horribly burned when he was caught by the force of the second blast which followed the arrival of the Barberton fire department on the scene.

Damages Adjoining Plant.
Part of the roof of the Babcock & Wilcox company plant adjoining the match works was blown off.

Every plate glass window in the new postoffice was broken.

In the old postoffice racks of mail were thrown to the floor. Windows were shattered and clocks knocked from shelves.

Among the more seriously injured were Nick Smith, barn boss, burned about body and face, Jay Steele, city fireman, blinded and terribly burned about body, Frank Weatherfield, yard fireman, body burned, William Swihart, electrician, body burned.

The blasts, which occurred at intervals of fifteen minutes, were distinctly heard in the city of Kenmore, three miles distant, and its force was felt for many miles.

Many Windows Broken.
Windows in all parts of the city were shattered by the concussions. Fire which followed the explosions spread to the company's lumber yard.

Every piece of fire fighting apparatus in Barberton was on the scene, as well as two pieces of Akron apparatus.

Thousands of anxious friends and relatives rushed to the scene, many tearfully asking for information of loved ones employed in the plant.

H. A. Rudd, general superintendent of the plant, was out of the city at the time.

Operator Is Heroine.
Miss Minnie Clark, telephone operator at the plant proved herself a heroine. The first blast occurred five minutes after she had arrived at the company's switchboard.

The blast tore down telephone and telegraph lines in all parts of the city. All but one company wire was put out of commission.

With glass raining all around her she stuck to her post and summoned police, firemen and ambulances.

DRINKS WOOD ALCOHOL AND IS STILL ALIVE

George Emery, a regular at the police station, obtained a quart of wood alcohol at a hardware store on a pretense that it was wanted to help paint a house. He then proceeded to take a stiff drink of this rank poison, and soon after was dead to the world. The police were called and he was taken to the station in the emergency wagon. The next morning he had recovered enough to be discharged as police chief thought he had been punished enough by the drink he had taken.

NEW AUTO DAMAGED IN CRASH WITH STREET CAR

Dudley Price had the misfortune to damage his new Paige car yesterday afternoon when it was struck by a west bound street car in front of the east end market house. Price was endeavoring to park his car at the proper angle when he backed in the path of the approaching car. The impact tore off the tire rack and ruined the left front fender, and the car is now in the shop for repairs.

LABOR IS AGAINST ENTERING POLITICS

CINCINNATI, June 22.—The American Federation of Labor today squelched an attempt to stampede its annual convention into favoring formation by organized labor of a third big political party.

Appeal for a political revolt through placing of a labor party on the political field, came from Max Hayes, of Cleveland, while the convention assailed all branches of the government, and threatened revolution, by labor if the government "continues to stop progressive evolution."

Employers of labor were warned that the more they "attempted to deprive workers of their livelihood and their earnings, the quicker we will have redress."

Conservatives in the labor movement urged the convention to determine upon hasty judgment.

"If I was to advise this convention," said Matthew Wolf, vice-president of the federation, "on

County Treasurer Flooded With $1 Bills For Taxes

County treasurer Walter Ludwig states that June taxes have not come in as well as on former occasions showing that the public has not the money to pay up. He is unable to state as yet how much short of the usual amount as during the last day from two to three bushels of mail bearing checks came in and they have not all been opened and checked up as yet.

As an indication of the shortage of money he pointed to the fact that many thousands of dollars were paid in $1 bills. Previously bills of much larger amounts were common, and the treasurer's office had to go to the banks and get $1 bills in order to make change. Within a few days he will be able to give some idea as to the amount of money received.

MAN AND WIFE KILLED BY AN ELECTRIC CAR

DAYTON, June 22.—An Ohio Electric traction car struck their automobile and killed M. S. Archer and wife, 415 Madison street, Paris, Ill., this morning. The accident happened at the entrance to the Ohio Masonic Home near Springfield.

By MRS. A. B. CURTICE

WELLINGTON, June 22.—

(Staff Special).—Mrs. Wm. Paley was killed by a fast freight on the West Main street cross of the Big Four Railroad, at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. Her body was mangled and cut. She was rushed to a doctor's office, but died a few minutes later. Her husband, Wm. Paley, gateman, saw his wife run down, but was unable to save her.

Mrs. Paley was taking her husband's supper, and crossed the tracks immediately in front of the incoming train. Mr. Paley called to her to hurry, but she became dazed and frightened and apparently could not move from the spot.

The train stopped within a few yards of the place where she was hit, the sudden halt throwing several cars off the track.

Mrs. Paley's body was removed to the Wadsworth morgue.

Funeral notice will be announced later in this paper.

REJECT FREEDOM FOR PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The U. S. government is not prepared to grant independence to the Philippine Islands. That was the reply of President Harding today to a special mission headed by Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, which came to Washington to demand, "immediate, complete and absolute" independence.

"The time is not yet for independence," the president told the Filipinos. "At this time it is not for me to suggest the day, distant or near. Meanwhile I can only renew the proven assurances of our good intentions, our desire to be helpful without exacting from your private or public purse, or restricting the freedom under which men and peoples aspire and achieve. No backward step is contemplated, no diminution of your domestic control is to be sought. It is to believe the time has arrived for the final decision."

The president said the Philippines would be "united for the solemn duties of self government without national aspirations."

"It is fair to assume," he declared, "that our only difference of opinion relates to the time for independence. We have spared you every burden of national defense, and costs of diplomatic representation throughout the world, yet you have been secure in your peace, and your representation has been remiss. We do not know it. If mutuality has not been perfect, we choose to make it so."

MRS. A. V. HAGEMAN WAS HURLED FROM TRAIN

LORAIN, June 22.—Word has been received from Mrs. A. V. Hageman, that her injuries were more serious than was at first reported.

She was thrown to the floor of an observation car in rounding a short curve on the Canadian Pacific railroad in British Columbia and her left wrist was broken and she was injured internally to such an extent that she did not regain consciousness until last night. She is expected to recover.

BODY RIDDLED WITH LEAD AT RECEPTION

LONDON, June 22.—Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, formerly chief of the British Imperial General Staff, was assassinated on the doorsteps of his home today as he was returning from the unveiling of a war memorial.

Field Marshal Wilson, a native of Ulster province, Ireland, had been named commander-in-chief of the Unionist Army of Volunteers, which led to the belief on the part of Scotland Yard that he had been killed by Irish Republicans.

WOMEN WHO VISITED WARD'S "LOVE NEST" STAGED FIST FIGHT

NEW YORK, June 22.—Women who visited the "love nest" of Walter S. Ward, son of the millionaire baker and indicted for the slaying of Clarence Peters, fought verbally and with their fists while Ward looked on, according to a story told today by Pinkerton detectives.

Early in the morning of Labor day the fight was begun with a storm of words between the two women. Ward's most frequent visitor and a brunette, culminated in the exchange of blows. It was of such intensity that Ward fled the apartment for an hour when neighbors were aroused. During the night, jewelry Ward valued at $3,000 vanished.

Edgar Huggins, colored elevator operator in the Poinciana apartment said both women stayed in Ward's apartment through that night, with stormy scenes occurring at intervals.

LORAIN POLICEWOMEN MAY DON KNICKERS

LORAIN, June 22.—A sensation has been stirred up here by the statement that Police Chief Theodore Walker was contemplating ordering Lorain's two policewomen to don knickers. It is figured that in case there was trouble in making an arrest it would be much easier to handle a prisoner if there were no skirts to interfere. Just how the policewomen would take such an order is a matter of speculation.

NEW EVIDENCE WARD MURDER

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 22.—Hitherto unsuspected evidence, tending to prove that Walter S. Ward, millionaire vice president of the Ward Baking Company, did not kill Clarence Peters, former sailor, in self-defense, as he claimed when he surrendered himself to the West Chester county authorities, has been unearthed by Frederick E. Weeks, district attorney of West Chester county and submitted to the grand jury. It was asserted today before Supreme Court Justice Joseph Morschauer.

FAVOR OHIOAN TO HEAD
INTERNATIONAL KIWANIS
TORONTO, June 22.—Edward Arras, Columbus Ohio, will be nominated for the presidency of the Kiwanis club international, now in session here, it was reported today.

Opposed Irish Policy

The field marshal was a member of the house of commons and recently had taken an important part in the action of the unionist "die hards" in their opposition to the English cabinet's Irish policy.

It was understood that Field Marshal Wilson was directing the movements of the Ulster special constabulary and common report had it that he was chiefly responsible for the recent movement of the British military forces in Ulster that resulted in the capture of Belleek and Pettigo from the Irish republicans.

Field Marshal Wilson served with distinction throughout the World war. He was 58 years old. He was born in Ireland and always maintained a residence there. His London residence, the scene of his tragic death, was at 36 Eaton place.

Field Marshal Wilson began his military career in 1884 as a member of the Royal Irish regiment.

Two Others Shot
According to a version received at Scotland Yard (British police headquarters) at 3:20 o'clock this afternoon, one policeman and a civilian were wounded by the assassins.

Two men were arrested charged with the actual assassination. Their names were withheld by the police. They were taken after a spectacular dash for freedom, firing pistols as they ran through the streets.

Field Marshal Wilson's body was riddled with bullets. The assassins hid in the garden of his home and opened fire as he stepped from his motor.

As the shooting began the crowd in the street which had gathered to see the famous soldier, was thrown into a panic. A rush was made for the assassins, but they took their time in getting away. Their menacing pistols held the crowd in check.

Is Biggest Sacrifice
Field Marshal Sir Henry H. Wilson is the biggest figure to be sacrificed to death in the Irish struggle during the present generation. An attempt was made to assassinate Lord French, while he was serving as lord lieutenant of Ireland but it failed. Of the thousands of killed and wounded in the struggle in Ireland all have been members of the rank and file—British police and soldiers and regulars of the Irish republican army.

Eight in Shooting
The prisoners save the names of O'Connell and O'Brien. They said they were ex-soldiers and that they came from Dublin Saturday. The police believe that there were eight men at least involved in the plot and search is being made for six others.

There were spectacular scenes in parliament. The house of lords adjourned, along with commons, out of respect for the field marshal. Lord Carson attempted to speak, but was overcome with emotion. Austen Chamberlain, the government spokesman in commons, and former Premier H. H. Asquith paid high tribute to the dead soldier.

The Tory "die hards" in commons are planning a parliamentary fight to increase the protection of English lives in Ireland and propose...

Will Draft Platform Looking Forward to Woman as President

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y., June 22.—"A woman president of the United States? Certainly, why not?"

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, president of the National woman's party, was talking politics in her home, "Beacon Towers," today. "There is nothing at all extraordinary about that," Mrs. Belmont continued.

"Sex," she said, "has nothing whatever to do with it and should not even enter into consideration. It makes no difference whether it be man or woman, as long as the right person is in the right place. Ability and integrity should be the qualifications which should place the right woman or man in the right position. All else makes not even a particle of difference."

"We have had man's view of things for twenty centuries—and we are not satisfied. Now give woman a chance. It is high time their viewpoint be aired. We want a highly talented person—regardless of sex—who is best equipped to serve humanity and our country."

"Let me emphasize," said Mrs. Belmont, "that the woman's party is not interested in sex discrimination. Women are beginning all throughout the nation to serve humanity. We want to see the right man or the right woman in the position where they will be best able to perform that service."

"We will put up our opinions against that which women have set up as their opinions—and the United States shall judge which is right and which is wrong."

"Women undoubtedly will set a naturally higher standard, forcing the men to raise theirs—thus evidently benefiting the whole human race."

Preliminary plans toward a permanent woman's party platform will be outlined late today at Mrs. Belmont's home when the national council of the national woman's party, composing representatives from all parts of the nation will be in session.

Seeks A Divorce From Bootlegger

The divorce case of Ignatz Ko-deleski, against Francis Kordelski, of Lorain, is being held today before Judge W. B. Thompson. There is a large attendance of witnesses and friends of the contestants from South Lorain, where the parties own property.

He charges her with gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty, and she comes back with the same charges, saying that he has been engaged in the illegal manufacture of liquor, was arrested and fined $500 and costs by Justice S. J. George, and that he spent his money for attorney fees and for paying his family, and that he has also beat her on several occasions. The attorneys in the case were trying to come to some agreement as to the division of the property while the crowd waited for the proceedings.

CHERRY CROP AT HEIGHT

The cherry market is at its height and there is a larger crop this year than for a number of seasons. The sour cherries are exceptionally plentiful and the market is glutted with them. The birds are active in getting their share but there are plenty of them. Prices run as low as ten cents per quart. Farmers are making a house to house canvass in an effort to get rid of their cherries, and the housewife is equally busy canning them.

CARBONDALE, Ill.,

June 22.—A telephone message received here today from J. T. Turner, plant superintendent of the Murphysboro long distance telephone company said that twenty-six prisoners were shot by their captors.

According to his information the file of prisoners was being marched through the woods when they broke and attempted to escape. Twenty were killed as they ran, while six who were recaptured were taken to a nearby cemetery and shot. Twenty-two men are said to have escaped.

Mutinous Troopers Loot and Kill; Mis- sionaries Roped With Converts — Biggest Uprising Since Boxer Rebellion

NANCHANG, China, June 22.—Gunboats proceeding from Nanchang to protect and remove foreigners from the district in which mutinous soldiers of Wu Pei-fu are reported to have looted and burned Kiang Fu Chang Shu and three other cities and slaughtered upwards of 10,000 natives.

The entire district has been razed, reports reaching here said, and thousands of refugees are fleeing.

Appeal for Gunboats

The soldiers under command of General Tsai were in Kiang-Si province to fight the troops of Li Sun Yat Sen. Unable to control his forces, General Tsai is reported in flight after telegraphing an urgent plea to Wu Pei-fu for help.

Many foreign missionaries are in the danger zone and gunboats now proceeding to the trouble zone hope to bring them all out safely.

Refugees from Kiangfu tell a terrible story of rapine, pillage and murder by the revolting Wu Pei-fu.

Women Held Captives

Women foreign missionaries have been roped to Chinese Christians and marched to mountain fastnesses, according to one story brought here.

According to the meager reports trickling in here from many sources, it ranks as the most terrible affair of the kind since the Boxer rebellion.

All communications have been stopped throughout the province of Kiang Si.

SHANGHAI, June 22.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, one of the leaders in the Chinese revolution that overthrew the old empire twelve years ago, and later president of the republic of South China, is being sent here as a haven of refuge, following the collapse of his government according to word from Canton today.

ELYRIAN HEADS EAGLES PARADE

Elyria Aerio Fraternal Order of Eagles made a fine appearance in the parade at Sandusky on the closing day of the State convention. Steve Leser was State marshal and headed the parade. The Elyria band headed the local delegation, and a group of little girls from here who marched with their elders were applauded all along the line. Lorain had a large delegation and won a $50 prize for the best appearance, regardless of number.

Steve Leser was elected the delegate from this, the sixth district, to attend the National convention to be held in St. Paul. John Carpenter was re-elected outside guard of the State Aerio.

GIVES ADVICE TO GRADUATES

OBERLIN, June 22.—President Burton of the University of Michigan gave a most inspirational and worthwhile address to the Senior graduating class of Oberlin college Wednesday. The main points of his speech in brief were:

- 1.—That the first important thing to remember in going out in the world is to keep your head. Balance is one of the most valuable assets a man or woman can have in going out to face the world.
- 2.—The next thing to acquire is stability.
- 3.—To be able to mix with all classes, to let no class barriers stand in the way.
- 4.—Do not start out by reforming the world until you can mind your own business.
- 5.—Above all things keep your own personality intact, always hold dear your integrity and self-respect.
- 6.—Your test of courage will be whether you can face the door of physical death without fear.

OBERLIN WINS TWO OF FRENCH SCHOLARSHIPS

OBERLIN, June 22.—As a part of the development of closer relations between the French and the American universities, the French universities have offered to American students twenty-two graduate scholarships for the year 1922-1923. The scholarships are awarded by the American Council of Education, Dr. Samuel P. Capen, Chairman, in co-operation with the Office National des Universites Francaises under the direction of Dr. Julien J. Champenois. The small number of these scholarships makes the winning of two of them by Oberlin students in competition with the students of all American colleges and universities an honorable distinction.

The successful candidates are Miss Kathryn Coates and Miss Margaret Chapin of the Senior class. Miss Coates is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben E. Coates, of Brecksville, Ohio. She entered Oberlin from the Union High School of Glendale, California. Besides making an excellent record as a student, majoring in the study of the French language and literature, Miss Coates has been active in the musical organizations of Oberlin, and has served as Secretary of the French Club. She will leave for France in the autumn to take up her work at the University of Bordeaux.

Miss Margaret Chapin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron A. Chapin, of Lansing, Mich., prepared for college at the Lansing High School and has specialized in language and literature, majoring in French. Miss Chapin had already arranged to make a trip to France this summer to carry on her studies in preparation for the teaching of French. The granting of this scholarship in recognition of her ability allows her an excellent additional opportunity to become familiar with French life, and to receive the benefit of training in a great French university. She will sail for France about July 1, and after special courses in Paris, will go to Bordeaux in September.

Oberlin College and its Department of Romance Languages are to be congratulated upon this recognition of the quality of work done by these students.

REUNION GLEE CLUB CONCERT PLEASES MANY

OBERLIN, June 22.—The Commencement Reunion Glee Club Concert given in Finney Chapel, Wednesday evening, June 21, was one of the most entertaining and successful events of the commencement week. The men's Glee Club combined with all the old members back, started the program out. Then the Women's Glee Club followed with a group of delightfully finished selections.

The combined Men's and Women's Glee Clubs presented an exceedingly clever and funny college operetta called "The Pennant" in which Earl Ward and Hope Ford as hero and heroine did great justice to their parts. Arthur Wood as "Verdant Green" kept the audience in a constant uproar with his high nasal voice. Harold Skidmore as the Jew and Prudence Fish as the widow, "Mrs. Reno Grass," gave interpretations of their characters which added much to the fun of the evening. The program is as follows:

Words Meanings Expand By Study

We sometimes speak of a "kind" person, things of the same kind, and again of "man-kind"; but do we ever reflect that the three words come from the same root? That wonderful genius, Shakespeare, meant more than a mere play on words, when he put into Hamlet's mouth—who was alluding to his father's brother—"A little more than kin, and less than kind."

It is very interesting to study words. A dictionary is not a dull and lifeless collection of words—but a living and breathing record of the peoples who speak them. For this reason there can be no more valuable book than a dictionary. People who study a dictionary become superior to those who are ignorant of its use. They should have a good dictionary, however, like The New Universities Dictionary. We have put it into every one's power to possess this treasure house of words and facts. Our coupon printed daily, in this paper makes it almost a gift.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Six men, including Henry P. WAS MILLIONAIRE BUNKED? "HE WAS," SAYS NEW YORKER

Shades of the green goods artists and gold brick purveyors of the past. Was Millionaire Harold P. McCormick bunked when he paid "less than $500" for the interstitial glands of a youth to halt the rush of old age? Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York city health commissioner, says he certainly was. McCormick says it was a success. Time alone will tell whether the $50,000 operation was a success or just a gold brick in new form.

ART RICHWINE RECIPIENT OF BABY SHOWER

At the Kiwanis club meeting today S. H. Lucas spoke briefly on transcontinental touring, especially the route to California, and the points of interest along the road. A spirit of fun was present when a "baby shower" was given Art Richwine, in honor of a new arrival at his home. He received enough toys and various articles for his baby to last it until it will be able to play base ball, and he responded by passing around the cigars.

CHILD CAUSES OUSTER, ARREST OF POLICEMAN

DAYTON, June 22.—Following his dismissal from the force as a patrolman last night and his arrest while in the act of drawing his final pay check at the office of the city treasurer, Patrolman W. E. Armstrong faces charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 14 year old school girl whose identity was not revealed.

Armstrong's hearing preliminary was set for tomorrow in juvenile court. Revelations made by the girl in the office of Safety Director Myers in the presence of her mother and the accused police man led to the dismissal and arrest.

The girl, it is said, referred to Armstrong as her "wonder man." Judging from the scope of the investigation put under way today, something of a sensation is expected involving other school girls, it is said.

Labor Is Against

the course labor should pursue, I would tell the administrative, the judicial and the legislative branches of the government to go to it. If they want to take away our savings and our liberties, if they want to stop progressive evolution and substitute revolution, go to it."

Leads Independence. Hays pleaded for independent political action by labor, as "necessary for our own safety."

"We must put our industrial movement with a political movement of our own," he urged. "We must have a political revolt and elect men from our own ranks."

Hays' appeal was favorably received by many of the convention floor, who applauded vigorously.

"Begin now," continued Hays. "If we hope to save labor to put men in congress and other places of responsibility to see that the laws we propose are enacted and enforced."

"I refuse for one to be dragged into either the republican or democratic parties. I'll stay out for independent political action until hell freezes over and then I'll preach it on the ice."

President Gompers attempted to stop debate when men from all parts of the floor sprang up. The convention voted 167 to 72 to close debate. It then almost unanimously adopted the report of the special committee on judicial decisions which embodied U. S. Senator La Follette's program for labor's combatting adverse court decision.

In voting for the committee report, the convention approved one of the most extensive legislative programs ever proposed by labor.

Gives Congress Power. The convention went on record for constitutional amendments giving congress power to annul supreme court of the United States decisions by a two-thirds vote; prohibitions enactment of anti-strike, anti-picketing and anti-organizing laws and prohibiting child labor and the enactment of laws repealing the Sherman antitrust and clarifying labor's status under the Clayton act.

An active campaign to effect this program will be immediately initiated.

The convention directed President Gompers to call a conference sixty days after adjournment of the convention to attempt settlement of the jurisdictional disputes between the structural iron workers and the teamsters' union.

Agreement was reached in the convention to permit re-affiliation with the American Federation of Labor of approximately 450,000 maintenance of way men, who have not been a part of the federation for three years past. They will be reinstated July 1 on payment of a per capita tax.

Murders

All agreed, however, that the shooting took place in the woods north of the mine and that Superintendent C. K. McDowell was one of the victims.

Colonel Sam Hunter, representing Adjutant General Carlos Black of Illinois, accompanied by county officials, started at once for the scene to investigate the reports.

The American Legion post at Herin owns ten rifles and the strikers, according to apparently authoritative reports, demanded the rifles of the officers of the post. Three demands were made, but the rifles had been hidden.

Then the miners descended upon the sporting goods stores of the town and secured fourteen guns and five thousand rounds of ammunition. And the march was on.

Hear Explosion. The battle between striking miners and the beleaguered employees of the Southern Illinois Coal company, which began late yesterday ended in victory for the miners today.

Shortly after nine o'clock this morning the miners, several hundred in number, refusing to abide by the truce which had kept overnight firing to a minimum, charged the mine en masse. They overpowered the 35 men they found entrenched there, dynamited the steam shovels and other machinery and set fire to the buildings.

Their prisoners they marched in the direction of Herin, where they said they would put them on trains to be taken out of the district.

Fighting. HERRIN, Ill., June 22.—The battle between striking miners and employees of the Southern Illinois Coal company, after an overnight lull, broke out again early today, according to reports reaching here. Corroboration of the report was furnished by a tremendous explosion, shortly after 7 o'clock, coming, apparently, from the beleaguered pit mine, five miles away, where a number of men are reported to be surrounded by a small army of striking union miners.

Three men are known to be dead as a result of the fighting which began late yesterday afternoon. A checkup will show many more dead, it is feared. The dead: George Henderson, 45, union miner, Herin; Tony Pichavich, 23, union miner, Herin.

Union miner, name unknown of Marion.

Dynamite Homes. UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 22.—Dynamiting of homes of coal miners who refuse to join the ranks of the strikers was renewed in Fayette county late last night and early today. The side of the house of Charles A. Pien, of Fairbance, was blown out and every window in the structure broken when a bomb was hurled against the structure just before midnight. Under Police Guard. Field Marshal Wilson's home is near that of Lord Carson (formerly Sir Edward Carson) and both have been under police guard.

Lord Carson was the original promoter of the Ulster volunteers, the anti-sinn fein organization in Ulster.

Following a police investigation it was discovered that Field Marshal Wilson dodged the first bullet fired at him and tried to run into the doorway of his home, but was shot down before he had taken three steps.

Three policemen were wounded by bullets fired by the assassins in their flight. One of the assassins attempted suicide but failed.

Both of the prisoners gave James as their Christian names. They said they were 24 years old. Neither would reveal his address.

LATONIA, Ky., June 22.—Although Whiskaway's victory over Morvich in the Carlton stakes is expected to shorten the odds on the Kentucky derby winner in the $50,000 Latonia special here Saturday, Ben Block's speedy colt is virtually certain to go to the post a favorite. The upset at Aqueduct has not convinced Morvich's followers that he is not the best bet entered in Saturday's rich feature.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Congress rallied today to support President Harding in his move to settle the $400,000,000 worth of war claims held against the United States by former enemy aliens.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—If Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee persists in his advocacy of American valuations as a basis for tariff legislation, he will find the agricultural bloc standing solidly against him and for the foreign valuations plan adopted by the republican members of the senate finance committee, senatorial spokesmen for the farmers indicated plainly today.

CINCINNATI, June 22.—"Mice the mischievous" escaped from the monkey cage at the zoo on Wednesday and went A W O L to the home of Dr. W. C. Hermann, Cincinnati bird and animal lover, where he spent the entire day amusing the children of the neighborhood. Labor Is Against the course labor should pursue, I would tell the administrative, the judicial and the legislative branches of the government to go to it. If they want to take away our savings and our liberties, if they want to stop progressive evolution and substitute revolution, go to it!"

Reads Independence.

Hays pleaded for independent political action by labor, as "necessary for our own safety."

"We must put our industrial movement with a political movement of our own," he urged. "We must have a political revolt and elect men from our own ranks."

Hays' appeal was favorably received by many of the convention floor, who applauded vigorously. "Begin now," continued Hays. "If we hope to save labor to put men in congress and other places of responsibility to see that the laws we propose are enacted and enforced."

"I refuse for one to be dragged into either the republican or democratic parties. I'll stay out for independent political action until hell freezes over and then I'll preach it on the ice."

President Gompers attempted to stop debate when men from all parts of the floor sprang up. The convention voted 167 to 72 to close debate. It then almost unanimously adopted the report of the special committee on judicial decisions which embodied U. S. Senator La Follette's program for labor's combating adverse court decision.

In voting for the committee report the convention approved one of the most extensive legislative programs ever proposed by labor to the Congress Power.

The convention went on record for constitutional amendment giving congress power to annul supreme court of the United States decisions by a two-thirds vote; prohibiting enactment of anti-strike, anti-picketing and anti-organizing laws and prohibiting child labor and the enactment of laws repealing the Sherman anti-trust and clarifying labor's status under the Clayton act.

An active campaign to effect this program will be immediately initiated.

The convention directed President Gompers to call a conference sixty days after adjournment of the congress to attempt settlement of the jurisdictional disputes between the structural iron workers and the teamsters' union.

Agreement was reached in the convention to permit re-affiliation with the American Federation of Labor of approximately 450,000 maintenance of way men, who have not been a part of the federation for three years past. They will be reinstated July 1 on payment of a per capita tax.

All agreed, however, that the shooting took place in the woods north of the mine and that Superintendent C. K. McDowell was one of the victims.

Colonel Sam Hunter, representing Adjutant General Carlos Black of Illinois, accompanied by county officials, started at once for the scene to investigate the reports. The American Legion post at Herin owns ten rifles and the strikers, according to apparently authoritative reports, demanded the rifles of the officers of the post. Three demands were made, but the rifles had been hidden.

Then the miners descended upon the sporting goods stores of the town and secured fourteen guns and five thousand rounds of ammunition. And the march was on.

Hear Explosion

The battle between striking miners and the beleaguered employees of the Southern Illinois Coal company, which began late yesterday ended in victory for the miners today.

Shortly after nine o'clock this morning the miners, several hundred in number, refusing to abide by the truce which had kept overnight firing to a minimum, charged the mine in masses. They overpowered the 35 men they found entrenched there, dynamited the steam shovels and other machinery and set fire to the buildings.

Their prisoners they marched in the direction of Herin, where they said they would put them on trains to be taken out of the district.

Renew Fighting

HERRIN, Ill., June 22.—The battle between striking miners and employees of the Southern Illinois Coal company, after an over night lull, broke out again early today, according to reports reaching here. Corroboration of the report was furnished by a tremendous explosion, shortly after 7 o'clock, causing, apparently, the beleaguered pit mine, five miles away, where a number of men are reported to be surrounded by a small army of striking union miners.

Three men are known to be dead as a result of the fighting which began late yesterday afternoon. A checkup will show many more dead, it is feared. The dead: George Henderson, 45, union miner, Herrin; Tony Pichavich, 23, union miner, Herrin.

Union miner, name unknown of Marion.

Dynamite Homes

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 22.—Dynamiting of homes of coal miners who refuse to join the ranks of the strikers was renewed in Fayette county late last night and early today. The side of the house of Charles A. Fisher of Fairchance, was blown out and every window in the structure broken when a bomb was set off alongside the structure just before midnight. A bomb was set off alongside the home of J. N. Smiley, at Fairchance just before daylight. Considerable damage resulted. No one was hurt in either explosion.

Won't Interfere

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The government will take no steps to intervene in the strike troubles in Illinois, Attorney General Daugherty said today.

The situation, Daugherty said,

FORMER ITALIAN AMBASSADOR MAY RETURN TO U. S.

Under Police Guard

Field Marshal Wilson's home is near that of Lord Carson (formerly Sir Edward Carson) and both have been under police guard. Lord Carson was the original promoter of the Ulster volunteers, the anti-sinn fein organization in Ulster.

Following a police investigation it was discovered that Field Marshal Wilson dodged the first bullet fired at him and tried to run into the doorway of his home, but was shot down before he had taken three steps.

Three policemen were wounded by bullets fired by the assassins in their flight. One of the assassins attempted suicide but failed.

The house of commons adjourned out of respect to Field Marshal Wilson.

Pays Martyr's Tribute

Just an hour before he was assassinated today Field Marshal Henry H. Wilson made an address at the unveiling of a soldiers' monument, saying:

"We soldiers count our gains and our losses by the number of those men whom we loved and honored most that died in the great cause."

Both of the prisoners gave James as their Christian names. They said they were 24 years old. Neither would reveal his address.

Field Marshal Wilson was shot five times. Three bullets passed through his body, one through his leg and one through his arm.

One of the policemen who were wounded subsequently died. Shocks Civilization.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—News of the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson came as a profound shock to officers of the United States who served with him in France and England during the World war.

General John J. Pershing, chief of staff of the army, issued a statement declaring that the killing of Wilson was an "outrage that must shock civilization."

can be coped with by state authorities.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Department of labor officials said today they regarded the disturbances at Herrin, Ill., as purely local in character and declared they did not expect the fighting there to lead to general violence in mining regions where the strike is in effect.

The mine workers who were involved in the Illinois disorders, they said, were ordinary laborers hired to dig coal near the surface and were not certified miners.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 22.—

The sending of troops to Herrin is not being considered. Adjutant General Carlos Black said here today. The head of the state militia forces declared his reports from Colonel Hunter at Herrin did not warrant the probable incitement of further trouble by the sending of troops to the already inflamed area.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Following the controversy between J. D. Collier and Frank A. Harrison over the administration of the affairs of the American commission to the Brazilian exposition, Secretary of State Hughes has ordered auditors to examine all receipts and expenditures of the committee. It was learned today.

Miss Martin has specialized in town surveying, and it was sympathy with bad housing conditions that first led her to adopt her profession.

McKinley School Grounds First In Playground Move

The community service play ground movement is making good progress and it is now planned as a matter of fact to make the McKinley school ground the first unit. It will be a model playground with three tennis courts, a hand ball court, a ball diamond, and a place for smaller children to play. This evening a meeting will be held at the home of E. P. Poste, 18 Park avenue, to which residents of Eastern Heights and the neighborhood adjoining are invited to be present. It is planned to interest the people in that section in the movement and make it a success, and they are all invited to be on the job this evening. Other playgrounds will be opened as fast as they can be reached. Louis B. Walton, the local director, Mrs. J. B. Loughry, and one or two others are putting their time in encouraging the movement and they are meeting with a ready response. J. Oliver Wilson, representing the National Community Service, states that in his experience he has never received the co-operation of the general public to the extent that he is getting here. "I understand what that 100 per cent sign means," he states. "It means that while you may not be 100 per cent, you have set yourselves at al to work for, and this is bound to be one of the greatest successes we have ever had."

COGNOMENS OF MEN TURN INTO WORDS

The study of language shows how the names of men often become a part of common speech. For instance, our word "dunce" comes from Duns Scotus, one of the most illustrious teachers of the Franciscan order. In his time theological controversy waged loud and fierce. His opponents, on hearing an argument from one of his school, would say contemptuously, "Oh, you are a Duns man" or more briefly, "You are a Dunce." Finally, the word came to mean a dull, ignorant person—and to be spelled "dunce." We get "nicotine," the alkaloid derived from tobacco, from Nicot, a famous French physician, who introduced the tobacco plant to Europe.

It is not the province of a dictionary to go into the origin and history of words, but The New Universities Dictionary contains the definition of such words as have passed into our common speech. Besides this, in its appendix it contains a real treasury of facts useful in every-day life. Our coupon offer, published in today's paper, explains our good fortune in being able to present what is an encyclopedia and a dictionary combined and in convenient form for daily use. We congratulate both our readers and ourselves on this stroke of good fortune.

CRAMPS, PAINS AND BACKACHE

St. Louis Woman Relieved
by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo.—"I was bothered with cramps and pains every month and had backache and had to go to bed as I could not work. My mother and my whole family always took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for such troubles and they induced me to try it and it has helped me very much. I don't have cramps any more, and I can do my housework all through the month. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends for female troubles."

Mrs. DELLA SCHOLZ, 1412 Salisbury St., St. Louis, Mo. Just think for a moment, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been in use for nearly fifty years. It is prepared from medicinal plants, by the utmost pharmaceutical skill, and superior methods. The ingredients thus combined in the Compound correct the conditions which cause such annoying symptoms as had been troubling Mrs. Scholz. The Vegetable Compound exercises a restorative influence of the most desirable character, correcting the trouble in a gentle but efficient manner.

DeLuxe

THE BEDSPRING LUXURIOUS

DeLuxe is the most luxuriously comfortable bedspring made. It will give you a lifetime of satisfactory service and more soothing delightful healthful repose than you have ever known

Luxurious comfort in the bedspring DeLuxe is a result of special features in the construction, among which are the extra long highly tempered conical coils tied together diagonally at the top with elastic helical coils. These helical coils are securely attached to the large coils by Patented S-Hook Fasteners which insure the integrity of the entire fabric and distinguish DeLuxe from its many inferior imitations. Each coil is thus given freedom of action and the bedspring is made flexible, so that it follows the contour of the figure and supports the whole body buoyantly in a natural and therefore healthful position. It does not sag like a hammock or pitch to the side of heavier weights when occupied by two persons. Tranquilized and made drowsy with a sense of physical comfort, you drift off into sound and refreshing sleep.

DeLuxe is handwoven finished in Rome Gray Enamel and will fit metal or wood beds (and low-foot wood beds) without any change.

It's the BEDSPRING, not the bed or mattress that makes all the difference."

"HER WILD NIGHT RIDES WITH OTHERS BROKE UP OUR BETROTHAL," SAYS DOCTOR

Miss Beatrice Faljian.

Wild joy rides by night, gay revels by day, now and then passionate embraces between men and maids—all of these combined to undo the work of Dan Cupid and as a result Dr. Harry M. Malejian, Detroit physician, is defendant in a $50,000 breach of promise action brought by Miss Beatrice Faljian, Troy, N. Y. Malejian says he broke the engagement after he learned that Miss Faljian indulged in all of the above in and outdoor sports. She denies the charges.

Ohio Federation Women's Clubs

Mrs. Geo. Elliott McCormick
Director of Press

Always conspicuous in big things, Ohio club women are taking a commanding position in the point of attendance at the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which opened June 20 and which will close June 30 at Chautauqua, N. Y.

Not only is Ohio playing a leading role in attendance, but many of her club women, including Mrs. Cornelius S. Selover, Cleveland, president of the Ohio federation, loom large within the inner councils of the national organization, their advice being welcomed on practically all of the major problems crowding for solution before committee meetings and on the convention floor.

Once again Ohio joins in extending greetings to her sister states, making her bow in the 1922 biennial meet with a membership of 118,000 active club women enrolled in a total of 752 clubs. This represents an increased membership since the last biennial or several thousand.

Ohio being one of the largest of the state federations, it naturally wields a most powerful influence in national club affairs, and Mrs. Selover, as the president of the Ohio federation, assumes a strong leadership with quiet dignity.

Cincinnati and Cleveland club women are in attendance at the Chautauqua meet in uncommonly large numbers, the Queen City delegation having occupied an entire room in England and on the Continent.

The following Lorain people were Elyria visitors Tuesday evening: Esther Battenhouse, Carrie Dobbeck, Winona Sherk, Elizabeth and Edith Dietz, Elmer Smithberger, Ralph Holder, Murlon Krueck, Victor Bremer and Paul Dietz.

Miss Dorothy Watts was a Lorain visitor Tuesday evening. Miss Esther Smith spent Tuesday evening in Lorain. Marshall chapter held its regular business meeting last evening.

Mrs. G. A. Friday, Mrs. Nettie Woodruff and Mrs. Marie Jehle attended the state assembly of St. Clair Rebekah lodges at Hotel Cleveland yesterday.

The Woman's Relief Corps will meet in regular session at the G. A. R. hall tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

Mrs. Lon Myers, Stop 16, Grafton road, entertained the Indian Hollow club last evening. The telling of ghost stories, games and music were features of the evening's entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Neuffer of School street visited in Cleveland last evening. Miss Creta Penfold of Oberlin road, who is a stenographer at the New York Central freight office, leaves tomorrow with her brother, William, and a party of students of Oberlin college for a trip to California. The party is being conducted by Prof. Lynds Jones.

Manley Hurlbut of this city and Miss Genevieve Aldrich of Norwalk were married in Norwalk Tuesday, at the Baptist church. Mr. and Mrs. Hurlbut will live at 149 Columbus street.

Henry Shiff of Fuller road, who underwent a serious operation at Memorial hospital, Tuesday, is getting along nicely. Doris Todd, of Fifth street, is the guest of her brother, Arthur Todd, of Rockport, Ill.

Mrs. Guy Sherod and son Robert, of Detroit, are the guests of Mrs. Sherod's brother, Grover Patton and family, of Columbus street.

Mrs. A. J. Diewald and children, of Toledo, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Horner, of West River street.

Miss Ozella Frank, of Valley City, O., who was a guest at the Garford-Orcutt wedding yesterday, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Henson, of Harrison street.

Miss Lucille Fitch, of Warren, O., who has been a student at Oberlin college, returned home yesterday after spending a week with Mrs. Geo. Henson, of Harrison street.

more Pullman for the trip. At the time, Ohio club women are taking a commanding position in the point of attendance at the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which opened June 20 and which will close June 30 at Chautauqua, N. Y.

Every past president of the Ohio federation save two will have some active part in the work of the state federation within the next two years. One past president is making an extended tour abroad and another's health will not permit of her taking part in any way.

Since becoming head of the Ohio federation, Mrs. Selover has been working to the common end of getting the past presidents in the front ranks of active membership, and she has not found it at all necessary to resort to any draft process in doing so.

"Better Things for Our Boys and Girls" is the motto of Glen Echo Child Welfare club, Columbus, and the announced object is to raise the standard of parenthood in the community and by uniting with other local organizations to act as a militant force to achieve better things for their boys and girls.

One of the main factors in bringing about such a desired condition, the Glen Echo members believe, is in the larger use of all school buildings as social centers.

MY MARRIAGE PROBLEMS

Adele Garrison's New Phase of Revelations of a Wife

Copyright, 1922, by Newspaper Publishers Service, Inc.

The Way Katie Took the News of Allen Drake's Demands.

"I'll not take your wage," I told Lillian, smiling, "for I have no desire to be against a certainty. Having just told me Mr. Drake was having some difficulty with the codes."

"His trifling variation," Lillian commented with a trace of mocking malice. "I'm only a novice in Allen Drake's end of this game, but I have a fancy that this time he has underrated the task set him. It wouldn't be his own fault to bump his nose a bit, especially as he's sure to come out on top finally—he always does."

There was in her voice, despite her smiling face, a distinct tribute to Allen Drake's unusual powers, and I knew that the magnanimous soul of her own knowledge of codes and her exulting of Mr. Drake's ability. Lillian can be a trifle malicious occasionally, but it is not in her to be petty.

"Do you mean that he will finally solve it?" I asked. "He'll get enough of it so that we'll know where things stand, and he won't take any leave of the thing until every trifle part is clear to him. Even if it takes months and consultation with foreign experts, and the dove-tailing of their various records, he'll finally get all of it. He's like a bulldog, only more tenacious. But it will be a solar plexus blow to his vanity not to get it all easily—especially after that spial he made to me."

A Laughing Promise. "There's one thing certain. We won't know where things stand, unless your father spills the beans. There's just one person in the world to whom Allen Drake yields deference and obedience, and that is your father, and it is the Chief alone who will know what he accomplishes—or doesn't." A thrill ran through my pulses. To Lillian Underwood and Allen Drake my father's remarkable rejuvenation, and the triumph which was almost in his grasp were matters of professional joy, at least a bit impersonal pride in a brilliant chief. To me there was a tenuous, poignant happiness in knowing that the father whom I adored was coming into his own again. Allen Drake's success or failure was a matter of indifference to me when compared with the wonderful news which my father so unobtrusively had given us.

seph's Catholic church was entertained by Mrs. Matilda Wesbecher at her home on Scranton road in Cleveland yesterday. The trip was made by auto, the party leaving in the morning and spending the greater part of the day with the hostess.

For I felt a sudden inexplicable disinclination to discuss Mr. Drake's prospects with Lillian. "Well!" I rose, throwing out my hands with a little gesture of mock despair. "This isn't breaking the dread news to Katie. If you hear with shock—" "I'll stand by in ambush with hand grenades," Lillian promised flippantly, and I left the room with the feeling that I was indeed going into battle.

"Dis Too Moech!" The feeling was intensified a little later when after Katie had listened silently and unsmilingly to my list of the things which Mr. Drake would require during his self-imposed seclusion in his room, she put her arms akimbo and faced me belligerently.

"You mean," she said, with uncharacteristic I heard the tremolo which always precedes hysterical anger in her voice—"you mean I got to feel all sorts of nice things all hours of day and night for dot bouch of soup greens vot all times stand and let at me like I run peeg or foony animal from circus vot he nefer see before and want to find out vot I do? Und me mit all kinds of extra work on hand, und shoot look at bees family in dis house, work enough for two tree girls, und I nefer keeck und always try do shoot efering you ask me, und take sooch care of dot babies, und stand all day dot old voman's matter vot she say 'Oh! Oh! Dis too moech!' I can do dot. Dot beg sheep head he can cook beemself, sel he wants sumting. Me, I do nothing for heem!"

The flow of words, so fast, so vehement that I felt as if a cloud had burst above my head, suddenly changed to the hysterical sobbing which I sometimes suspect Katie has on tap, ready to turn on at will. I had watched her closely, and had listened attentively, planning my course the while. Now I stood perfectly silent and motionless while she wept and sniffled, waiting until her insatiable curiosity got the better of her. When I saw her eyes furtively peering at me from behind the hands which she had clung before her face, I said, with careful indifference: "Very well, Katie, I am sorry you feel that you cannot do this for me. But it is something which must be done, nevertheless, my father has asked for it. So if you will please leave the cooking things where I can get at them I will prepare Mr. Drake's meals myself."
